Ask 1.5 Million For School; $208, Through Ranks Hikes

Interest is expected to run high when Town Meeting members go into session in March to "tackle" a number of articles which concern controversial subjects; at the same time two or three surprise articles are expected to cause more than a bit of an explosion on their own.

Controversial subjects which will come before Meeting members in the form of articles include the following:

Request for the appropriation of close to a million and a half dollars for the construction of an addition to the present high school.

The estimated cost of construction of the new building is approximately $1,200,000. Another $300,000 is needed to cover a cost of renovations in the old building and miscellaneous related projects.

Request for conveying of the Center Railroad station to the V.F.W.

Request for the installation of traffic signals on Mass. ave. in front of the high school.

Request for the approval of Jaywalking legislation.

Request for the conversion of traffic signals in the town at a cost of $8,000.

Seek Heights Meters

If the Town and the Board of Selectmen do not approve the jaywalking law by 1965 the community will lose its Chapter 90 aid. In accordance with the new law all traffic signals must be changed over to conform with Federal regulations by 1965, thus the request for $8,000 as a first step in this matter.

Request for improving the Winslow st. parking area at a cost of $8,000. A gate will be installed and meters placed around the area.

A request has also been made to rezone the area near Spy Pond and Lakehill ave. from C to B. This could mark the fourth appearance of a request for a zoning change in this area. However, it might not appear unless approved by the Planning Board.

Three surprise articles which could cause considerable controversy are the following:

A request for the installation of parking meters in Arlington Heights.

A request for the taking of land off Davis ave. in the Park ave. area to be used for parking facilities.

A request for funds to cover the cost of the above.

The last three articles listed stem back to a request for alleviation of traffic problems in the Heights section.

Originally, the request had been for taking of a portion of the Locke school lawn for parking. However, the Selectmen felt that the problem might be solved by installing meters. The request for the construction of an off-street parking area came from 10 registered voters.

A complete rundown of the 93 articles to be voted on at Town Meeting will appear in subsequent issues of the News.

Birdseye View of Eighth Annual Arlington High School Football banquet sponsored by the Arlington Lodge of Elks. Arlington high football players were all honored with trophies. George Strob was presented with the most valuable trophy.

The Personnel Board has requested a $208 raise for 556 Town Employees and 10 registered voters have asked a pay hike which would raise the maximum pay of a patrolman and/or firefighter to $6007. The present maximum is $5614.

Police Dept. Promotes 2, Two Resign

Town Manager Edward C. Monahan has announced the appointment of a police lieutenant and a police sergeant.

At the same time it has been learned that two patrolmen have resigned from the force. Named as a lieutenant was James A. Doherty, Jr., 54 Webster st., a member of the force for almost 12 years. Appointed as sergeant was Robert L. Ouellette, 54 Hilbert st., a police officer for seven and one-half years.

Doherty was born in Cambridge, Nov. 21, 1925, and was appointed a member of the force March 18, 1951. He was appointed a sergeant Aug. 28, 1955.

Ouellette was born May 17, 1927, in Cambridge, and was named a military substitute June 5, 1955. He was appointed a permanent officer Aug. 21, 1955.

Resigning patrolman John Mahoney had been a member of the department from Dec. 2, 1962, to Jan. 20, 1963. He resigned to return to work with the M.T.A.

Patrolman Richard Shea, a member of the force for 11½ years, resigned to enter private business.

At the same time 10 registered voters have inserted an article requesting a 4 per cent raise for Town Employees.

The request of the Personnel Board is for 4 per cent or $208 annually or 4 per cent or $4.00 weekly whichever is the greater.

Total amount requested under this article is $94,500. The raise, if approved, would go into effect April 1.

The total request of the fire police is $57,105.

Previously Town Employees had asked for a $364 "across the board" pay hike and fire and police had requested for a $686 "through the ranks" increase.

The request of the 10 registered voters is a so-called "open article" which would leave room for the insertion of substitute motions for less than the 4 per cent request.

The four percent hike would amount to $1.05 on the tax rate.

The requested hike by the Personnel Board would include all full-time employees under the classification and pay plan with the exception of those coming under the control of the School Board and members of the Welfare Dept.

ASK GRADE CHANGES
Other articles inserted at the request of the Personnel Board include:

Request for a one grade raise MC7 to MCS for eleven foremen: $1981.

Change in grade from AG11 to AG12—Supt. of Parks and Recreation: $312.

Change in grade for Supt. of Weights and Measures, AG1 to AG5: $408.

Increase in salary for the Head Librarian at the Robbins Library: raise of $68.

Change in salary for the Supt. of Motor Equipment and Repairs: $157.

Increase in pay for seven inspectors in the police department: total $630.

Extra pay, ten cents per hour for custodians working nights at Town Hall: $314.

Change in grade from AG5 to AG6 for timekeeper and storekeeper at Public Works (Continued on Page 6)

Reaction was fast and action furious to the announcement which appeared in the local press a week ago that Star Market had bid $100,000 for the Old Town Yard property on Mass. ave.

Some eighty-five Arlington businessmen immediately picked up what spokesman Berg Keshian termed "a threat to their livelihood" and signed a petition in opposition to any such sale.

They swarmed into the Selectmen's quarters in such numbers Monday night that the hard-working Finance Committee was asked if it would change rooms for the night. The Finance Committee can be found on many a night at this time of the year going over the facts and figures concerning the Town Budget, and usually holds forth in the larger hearing room in the front section of the Town Hall.

Spokesman Keshian, with the many grim-faced businessmen from all over town in his corner, gave forth with a prepared statement which indicated that this may be the most vehement opposition to any one project in the Town than has been the case in "many a moon".

Keshian, who operates a super market of his own on Mass. ave., not too distant from the location where Star proposes to build called the reason for the opposition a "selfish" one—"our livelihood."

Keshian stated that to destroy would be to destroy the life-blood of Arlington; thus attributing the quality of life for the community to its businessmen.

Some 85 businessmen of Arlington jammed the hearing room at Town Hall, Monday night, to discuss the possibility of Star Market establishing a Shopping Center on the Old Town Yard property. The men who came from all sections of Town were in opposition to such a move. Berg Keshian served as spokesman for the group. Selectmen presently have three bids for the purchase of the Town Yard property under consideration.

Wild Game Dinner, Boys Club

On Sunday, Feb. 24, there will be a "Wild Game" dinner for the benefit of the Arlington Boys' Club. It is a kick-off drive to raise money for the tiling of the club pool.

Men and their sons need not be members of the club or residents of Arlington to attend. "Whitey" Krueger, owner and operator of Whitey's Sportland in Arlington Center, will sponsor the entire menu.

Every week since the beginning of the summer, a deposit has been made in a Frozen Food Locker in Cambridge. Lobsters, clams, scallops, blue fish, shrimp, etc. will be some of the seafoods. Deer meat, steaks and chops, rabbit, duck, pheasant, partridge, and many more species of wild game will be expertly and delicately prepared by Whitey.

Spaghetti and macaroni shells with two or three different type sauces and a fresh garden salad will top off the menu. It will be a buffet style dinner.

This will offer a fine opportunity for a dad to use the pool and also have a delicious deer steak if he didn't get the opportunity to hunt this year.

Dave Mahoney, swimming director at the Club stated this week that "the need for tile in the pool basin can easily be seen now, as the paint is constantly chipping and flaking off the bottom. It detracts from the looks and proper functioning of the pool."

Tickets may be purchased at Whitey's Sportland in Arlington Center or from Dave Mahoney at the Club.

JOHN ADAMS

A solemn requiem high Mass for John Adams, 66, of 23 Fordham st., was held at Immaculate Conception Church in Cambridge, Mr. Adams, retired cooper at Walworth Co., in Cambridge, died on Friday at his home.

Late Rally Gives Locals 3-2 Win, Knocks Medford To 2nd

Arlington's G.B.I. hockey team won its sixth game in the last seven starts after two early season defeats to scramble further an already scrambled four club race.

Spotting the league-leading Medford team a 2-0 goal lead midway through the second period, Arlington rallied with a goal in the closing minutes of the second stanza and two markers in the early moments of the final period to hand Medford its first loss of the season and thus even the season's record with the "Mustangs".

An Eddie Burns coached Arlington high hockey team has never lost twice to the same opponent in 14 years of G.B.I. competition.

Arlington lost its first two games, won four in a row, then blew a 3-0 lead and bowed to Brookline 4-3. In the past two weeks, the locals have beaten Newton and Medford, knocking both teams out of first place in the process.

Brookline, after hanging back behind Newton and Medford for over half the season, has come strong and this week took over the lead by a single point over these two teams. Arlington is still fourth, but only three points from the league roof. The teams have five games to play.

Arlington-Medford battled on even terms through the first period, but then junior forward Don McKeown tallied a pair of markers in the second period for Medford.

His first tally came at the 16 second mark of the period with an assist going to Riley. At 5:09 of the same canto he scored a second marker with McCarty registering the assists.

Bob Fredo fired a 15 footer through a screen at 8:08 of the second period with Clarke and Cappello getting assists.

At 1:54 of the final canto, Buddy Clarke picked up a clear-out shot and fired it by the Medford goalie.

Dick DeCaprio tallied the clincher just a minute later when he took a pass from Mc-Carthy and fired a 45 footer by Medford's John Fazio.

New Plans Look To Future Seek Summer St. Rezoning

Arlington's Comprehensive Plan is essentially concerned with the future, the Planning Board stated recently, because a rapidly changing pattern of suburban growth around Boston will inevitably place heavy pressures for change here in Arlington.

The Board feels that such changes can be anticipated and to a great extent controlled. Re-routing of Routes 2 and 3, rapid transit extension, increased school population and retail sales competition from other towns, are only a few of the many changing aspects of Arlington examined in the Plan.

According to the Board, this plan will aid future Town Meetings in relating individual warrant articles to the overall development of the Town.

The Planning Board is for this reason in the process of mailing copies to all present members of the Town Meeting. Town officials as well as the libraries will receive copies. In addition, the Town Clerk's office will have a limited number for sale at $1.

In order to carry the Comprehensive Plan forward, the Planning Board has instituted two Federally-assisted studies. One is a Capital Improvement Program; the other a detailed plan for Arlington Center.

The former will be a realistic scheduling of Town facilities to avoid waste and foster public support.

The latter will go into much more detail than was possible within the Comprehensive plan, and come up with specific recommendations for the future development of the Center relating to internal circulation, parking, retail facilities, offices and general appearance including signs.

Both of these studies should be completed sometime after June, 1963.

WORKSHOPS PLANNED

The Arlington Young Republican Club will hold a series of political workshop meetings beginning Feb. 12, to promote a better understanding of Town Government.

The first session will be held at the home of Miss Priscilla Symington, 10 Varnum st.

REFRIGERATOR SERVICE for all makes MILLER and SED-DON, 2081 Mass. Ave. KI 7-3651

An article has been inserted by the Planning Board in the 1963 Town Warrant to rezone property in the vicinity of Forest and Summer streets owned by Herbert D. Stevens.

The Board will request that this property, now in the single-family district (Residence A) be rezoned to the two-family district (Residence B).

This change, if approved by the Town Meeting, will correct an apparent error which led to the construction several years ago of two-family homes in this Residence A zone.

Miss Murdena Campbell, chairman of the Board, stated that the change being recommended conforms with the newly completed Comprehensive Plan for Arlington.

A public hearing on the proposed change will be held as advertised in the Hearing Room of the Town Hall at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 20.

Y-TEENS CLUB

Open house for mothers of all girls in Y-Teen Clubs in Cambridge, Arlington and Burlington will be held at the Cambridge YWCA Jan. 30, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m.

They are Mrs. John Dunlop, Mrs. Vincent Gillis, Mrs. Robert Green, Mrs. Francis Keefe, Mrs. John Simonds and Mrs. Peter Waring. They will be assisted by girls in the Wednesday Night Y-Teen Club of Cambridge.

There will be refreshments, tours of the building and the new swimming pool, and mothers will meet and talk with Y-Teen Club Advisors, Mrs. Mary Layne Gregg, Mrs. Kristin Dearing, Mrs. Phyllis Bush, Mrs. J. J. Macklin, Mrs. Louisa Marshuetz and Mrs. Roberta Kalinoski and Teenage Program Directors, Miss Phyllis Rodenhiser and Mrs. Jane Christie.

Bernacchi of Arlington was her sister's maid of honor. Miss Bernacchi and the bridesmaids, Mrs. George W. Seeley of Cambridge, sister of the bride, and Miss Barbara A. Gould of Weymouth, sister of the groom, wore royal blue dresses of brocaded satin. Miss Bernacchi carried a fall basket of gold, white and blue chrysanthemums, gold snapdragons, cat tails, wheat heads and white leaves. The bridesmaids also carried fall baskets of gold and blue chrysanthemums and gold snapdragons. Miss Jeanmarie Seeley, niece of the bride, was flower girl for her aunt. She carried a smaller basket, similar to that of the maid of honor. John J. King of Arlington was best man. Ushers were Thomas Donovan and Joseph Leighton of Dorchester. The bride's mother wore champagne puff brocaded satin with brown accessories. The groom's mother chose peony pink satin and wore rose accessories. Following a wedding trip to New York, the couple now make their home in Wollaston.

Some Tips On Safety

With the winter ice skating season in full swing, the following safety tips for skaters are offered by George Faulkner, Water Safety Chairman, Arlington Red Cross.

Warm winds and sun batter away daily at the structure of ice. During mild periods no one should venture on the frozen surfaces of rivers, lakes and ponds even though the ice may appear to be solid. Two feet of what looks like firm ice may be so saturated with water that the slightest pressure may cause it to crumble and vanish in a few seconds leaving only open water in its place.

Skaters should beware of "Black Ice". This is young ice formed during the first freeze of the winter season, or forms in flooded hollows over old ice after a mid-winter thaw. In its first stages it is quite transparent and the darkness of the water shows through.

Skaters should remember — never skate alone; never to skate on salt water ice and never skate close to open bodies of water on the ice surface.

If an accident should occur — knowing what to do and how to do it often prevents multiple drownings.

If a skater should fall through the ice . . . panic should be avoided . . . first and foremost. The skater should swim or move slowly through the broken ice toward the solid ice ledge. He can propel himself by kicking his feet and extending his arms forward to the unbroken ice, always maintaining a level position.

Once he has reached the ice ledge, he should slowly work his way forward over the ice rim and away from the broken area.

Maintaining a horizontal position at the edge of the ice rim distributes the body weight over a greater area and often prevents the ice rim from breaking up into a wider water hole area.

Persons who observe an accident on the ice, have a real responsibility in getting help and averting complication of the original accident, the Red Cross warns.

No matter how many persons are in the area of the accident, someone should be delegated immediately to go to the nearest phone and summon help from the local police and fire department.

Only a few rescuers, who know what they are doing, should go to the aid of the skater who has fallen through. A crowd of rescuers milling around the scene not only adds confusion, but often puts such a strain on the ice that rescuers sometimes become victims.

At the scene of a skating accident, use of materials at hand to affect rescue are most important. A long ladder, pole or life ring often placed at skating areas, may be extended by one or two persons along the ice surface toward the skater in the water.

Towels, scarfs or often pieces of strong winter clothing may provide a life saving contact between rescuers and skaters. Even a spare tire from a car truck can be rolled to the scene . . . it will float and support the weight of five persons in the water.

The problem of venturing onto the ice safely depends largely upon knowledge of two kinds, namely, where one may skate safely and under what conditions.

Symmes News Your Hospital

By Mrs. William E. Phillips
Clerk, Executive Committee,
Symmes Hospital Board of Trustees

We're climbing high on our soapbox this month to try to explode once and forever the belief that hospitals are more expensive than hotels, and if we are to believe those who scream the loudest, the service isn't as good.

To be sure of our facts, we delved deeply into an accumulation of statistics and facts researched by the American Hospital Association.

Neither hospitals nor hotels like to be compared, and the general feeling is that to do so is ridiculous!

Managers of several large hotels were interviewed and they emphasized many points we feel are worth passing on to you.

First: A hospital operates on the American Plan with 3 meals a day included in your room rate . . . some hotels follow this plan, but many do not and one such manager went on to say that guests had better appear in the dining room for their meals, at menu prices, or be billed for room service.

Second: Hospitals average two employees per patient, while hotels employ one for every two guests. Also, moder-

Bates, speech correction.

A large gathering of the Stratton pupils, parents and teachers held a skating party at the M.D.C. Rink in Belmont, Jan. 16.

Miss Scallan was also the guest speaker at the Crosby P.T.A. this week. Her subject was "Teaching of Reading in Arlington Schools".

Under discussion were the various reading devices for each grade.

Miss Scallan also demonstrated "The Science Research Association Kit", a special technique for sixth graders.

Physical Fitness was the theme of the Cutter P.T.A. meeting held Jan. 8, in the school auditorium.

Guest speakers were Ralph Bevins, Supervisor Boys' Physical Education in Arlington Schools and Frederick Tobin, Organizer of Physical Fitness Club at Jr. High West. Also present was John Riordan, director of the Physical Fitness Club at the West.

A demonstration was also presented by a group of boys from the Jr. High West. Named to the nominating committee were Principal Harold H. McLean, Mrs. John Gill, Mrs. Raymond Eaton, Mrs. Clifford Burvill and Mrs. Charles Tackto.

Plans for the coffee hour which will be held Feb. 12, were discussed before the meeting was adjourned.

TO THE EDITOR

On behalf of the Spy Pond Association I would like to sincerely thank you for the splendid publicity that we received from your newspaper for our recent Ice Rescue Program.

We feel that without the co-operation that you gave us we would not have had the turnout that we did, which was most pleasing.

I am sure that in the future we will be putting on other demonstrations such as this for the benefit of the townspeople and I feel certain that we can count on you from the standpoint of publicity.

Once again, my sincere thanks.

Very truly yours,
Wallace J. Flynn.

ately priced mail service is not like professional nursing care. We quote one harried hotel man . . . "Imagine our maids trying to make a bed with a guest in it".

Third: Hotels receive a large part of their income from services other than room rentals, such as restaurants, bars and newsstands . . . were it not for this, hotels would have to charge much more for rooms.

True, a hospital charges for laboratory, X-ray, pharmacy, etc., but these departments are staffed with highly trained technicians and professionals and there is no carry over of profit to reduce other hospital costs.

Even the patient who may owe his life to the hospital sometimes has trouble understanding what he pays for. His knowledge is limited to what he sees from his bed.

Only 20 per cent of the space in most hospitals is allotted to beds . . . the remaining space is used for complex and expensive equipment that guard a patient's life, the professional departments which provide specialized care and protection from the patient's admittance until his discharge, and the administrative, engineering and maintenance departments which keep the hospital services running smoothly. Many vital employees are never seen by the patient.

To our mind, the biggest fallacy in hotel-hospital comparison hasn't been mentioned as yet. People go to hotels for fun, or business, but willingly. People go to hospitals because they must. The hospital patient is a most unwilling visitor and it's human nature to resent paying for something associated with pain rather than pleasure.

We hope everyone will bear in mind these facts, should hospitalization be needed sometime in the future. Meanwhile, we at Symmes will keep right on doing everything possible to keep our hospital well-equipped and well-staffed for those who do require our services.

Remember the poem about the busy man . . . give him the job and he'll do it? That certainly holds true with our hospital building committee. Every member of this six-man team made up of John Mirak, William Maloney, Walter Chamberlain, R. Curtis Hamilton, Walter Kenney and Donald

The Visiting Nursing Association, which shared in the United Fund, served the residents of Arlington last year to the extent of over 6,000 visits.

The first rehearsal for the Legion Post Irish Minstrel Show will be held at the Legion Hall, Jan. 31, at 7:15 p.m.

The Temple Emanuel Sisterhood will hold a "Scotch Auction" at 1508 Mass. ave., Lexington, Jan. 28, at 8:15 p.m.

Plans for the 100th anniversary of the Emancipation Proclamation will be discussed at a meeting of the Arlington Fair Housing Authority, Jan. 28, at 8 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ascher Shapiro, 6 Chapman st.

The meeting will also consider plans for interpreting to Arlington real estate brokers' aims of the Fair Housing Committee, and for obtaining their views on how open occupancy can best be achieved.

William A. Perry, Executive

Director of the Greater Boston Association for Retarded Children, will speak of its activities and ways in which the community can supplement the existing school programs at a meeting at the Crosby School auditorium, Jan. 30, at 8 p.m. A film, "The Child Alone," will also be shown.

The Adult Education Committee of Temple Shalom, Medford, will hold a Winter Education Institute of three courses and eight lectures, which will be offered in an eight consecutive week period, Monday nights, starting Jan. 28 and March 18, at the Medford Jewish Community Center, 475 Winthrop st.

A series of Gospel Services is being held in the Chestnut Hall every Sunday at 7 p.m. under the direction of Miss M. Riddell and Miss E. Ostrander.

Unanimous approval was given by the members present and voting at the Annual Meeting of the Unitarian Church to the Parish Committee to proceed with the interior decoration of the church. Sparked by a pledge from the Laymen's League of $1,000, the members also voted to transfer $1,000 from the Founder's Fund to support this project.

The interior refurbishing, when completed, will mark the final major achievement in the building program of the First Parish commenced 9 years ago under the leadership of the present minister, Rev. William W. Lewis. "Presently," Mr. Lewis said, "it is anticipated that this final stage will be spread over a couple of years."

Nickerson is a busy, successful man, yet each finds time for a once-a-week meeting, (and sometimes more), and their know-how and sensible planning is whipped our new wing into shape in record time. These men seem to thrive on the tremendous amount of detail involved, and their far-sightedness surely will save many headaches and dollars once actual building begins. We are indeed lucky to have such dedicated men volunteering their time and talents to making our hospital better able to serve community needs.

Will you bear with us now while we hark back to Christmas . . . and tell you of the many nice things done for our hospital by thoughtful people?

A group of young men from Lexington who call themselves the "Eliminators Hot Rod Club" forever dissipated any mistaken ideas we may have had about brash young men racing around in "souped up" cars. This group decided to use their club dues to purchase gifts for our Pediatric patients. They first borrowed a Santa Claus suit from a department store, dressed their jolliest member in this, and turned him loose with a sack full of carefully thought out toys exactly right for the ages and sex of our tiny patients. We understand they repeated this performance at the Fernald School and for a children's program at WBZ.

NEUTRAL OBSERVER

The Observer has been peeking into some non-political corners of late and came up with some interesting observations.

Checking through a re-cap of budget items, some of which still might be slayed by the Finance Committee, Mr. O. came across the figures $46,804 for pay adjustments from Jan. to Aug. for some 276 teachers in the local school system and another item mentioning an adjustment for $5,927 for some 60 teachers from Jan. to June.

These figures did not cause too much concern since it was more or less self-evident that this $51,000 or so was to cover the cost of school salary raises voted over a year ago.

However, the Observer's curious eyebrows raised a bit when they lit upon a request for an adjustment for $55,000 beginning in Sept. of this year.

Now as far as was known, the School Committee voted no raise to teachers during any of the Committee meetings since school opened in September — so when and where.

Actually, the answer is a simple one.

The School Committee has the power to vote a pay raise when and if — at any of its meetings throughout the school year.

This time because of conditions which are unusual, in a manner of speaking, the monies for such a raise have been requested, but the raise has not been voted by the Committee. The unusual part being that although some of the requested amount might be voted in the form of raises for the over 400 teachers now in the system, it is also possible that some of it might be used to cover the cost of paying any number of new teachers.

At the rate at which the school population is growing, 30 pupils per month throughout the system, then it is conceivable that more teachers might be needed, and thus the money would be available.

The School Committee could vote a raise next month or in March or in September or not at all, but the money will be there if approved as recommended in the budget.

Now that the residents have withdrawn their appeal to the Supreme Court, it shouldn't be too long until the apartment buildings which received Town Meeting go-ahead almost two years ago become a reality. This is the Hamilton property adjacent to Spy Pond referred to.

Anthony "Bob" Caterino, 18 Williams st. has taken out papers for Selectman. Bob's one of those in the Heights area not particularly happy over the Warrant article inserted by the Board of Selectmen asking parking meters in that section of town.

—And if things don't perk up this week in the local political picture, local columnists may have to start writing about themselves, or maybe some of them do now anyway.

ELLEN S. CLEMENTS

Funeral services were held at the Saville chapel on Jan. 17 for Mrs. Ellen S. Clements of 28 Glen ave., Dr. Robert Slaughter of the First Baptist church officiated.

Born in Northern Ireland more than 80 years ago, Mrs. Clements had lived in Concord, New Hampshire, for many years before moving to Arlington 15 years ago.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Sabiston, of Arlington. Burial was at Blossom Hill Cemetery, Concord, New Hampshire.

SENIOR GIRLS' CLUB

Arlington Senior Girls' Club recently sponsored a panel discussion on personal relations. Mrs. Summer Pearlman, who is on the staff of the Psychological Counseling Division of the Arlington School Department, acted as adult resource person.

Girls working on the panel were Jane McCall, Diane Mahoney, Sandy Davidson, Maureen Coffey, Martha Buzzell, and Martha Craven. Club advisor is Mrs. J. J. Macklin.

POLICE NAB TWO

Two Arlington men were fined a total of $450 in connection with lottery charges last week.

One was fined $300 and given a one year suspended sentence in the house of correction, and the second was fined $150.

The first was charged with registering bets at his home, using the telephone for betting purposes and setting up a lottery.

The second was charged with having tickets on his person. Arlington Police Captain Lucarelli and inspectors Bradley and Hourihan, along with state police officers arrested the two men after raiding a building at 1406 Mass. ave., Thursday afternoon.

WORKSHOP

At a recent meeting of the Arlington Young Republican club it was decided that the club will conduct a series of political workshop meetings to promote a better understanding of our town government.

The first meeting will be held at the home of Miss Priscilla Symington of 19 Varnum st. at 8 on Feb. 12.

Ice Injuries

Several Arlington women were injured during the ice storm last Friday.

Ethel Savage, 76, 224 Mass. ave., was taken to Symmes hospital and then to Winchester hospital when she sustained an injury to her right hip, when she slipped and fell on ice while crossing Whittemore st. at Mass. ave.

Mary Tobin, 67, 6 Tussell ter., was treated by Dr. Nigro at Symmes hospital for an injury to her left leg after she fell in the front yard of her home.

Susan Shattuck, 17, 83 Appleton st., was treated at Symmes hospital by Dr. Castro for an injury to her right ankle after she fell on ice on the sidewalk on Mass. ave.

Mrs. Charles Clements, 82, Brattle st., was treated by Dr. Dowd for a hip injury after she fell while stepping off the sidewalk on Mass. ave.

HEADS NEW DIVISION

Stanley W. Bates, 32 Paul Revere rd., was elected to the office of District Vice President at a meeting of the Mid-winter Convention of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., held in Springfield, Jan. 19.

An active member of the Arlington Chapter since joining three years ago, he was Mystic Lakes Area Counselor last year.

His newly created division of this international organization for men's quartet and chorus singing includes chapters in Boston, Framingham, Lynn, Marblehead, Needham, Newton, Reading, Salem, Waltham, and Worcester, besides the local group. Six such segments make up the Northeastern District, encompassing New England, Eastern New York, and Quebec, Canada.

Mr. Bates is Speech Consultant in the Arlington Public Schools.

"The citizens of Arlington are invited to join in this effort to better understand and appreciate our town government. With the town elections coming up soon in March, it is especially beneficial to broaden one's grasp of local government and its many ramifications," a spokesman said.

The School Committee Monday night voted to have the sum of $9,000 be taken from available Federal Funds to initiate action on the establishment of Data Processing in the Arlington High School.

It is hoped that equipment may be rented and instructors prepared to teach this new procedure by next September.

The cost of renting I.B.M. equipment to be installed at the Vocational school would be an estimated $11,400. This entire "lab" would be picked up by the State at no cost to the Town.

Half of the $9,000 requested for instructional use will also be reimbursed to the Town.

Supt. of Schools Dr. Roens estimated that the maximum cost of the course to the Town for a year would be $15,000, half of which would be reimbursed.

The general course would be open to post-graduates only and would be conducted from late afternoon until 10 p.m. daily. Post graduates would be accepted from communities outside of Arlington as well.

Dr. Roens also stated that he hoped that arrangements could be made to teach high school girls how to be "punch card" operators by use of the machines during classroom hours.

Data Processing is fairly new to the education field, but could prove valuable in teaching youngsters how to program.

Dr. Roens explained that he could foresee no appreciable savings moneywise in the use of such equipment in the local school, but that many other advantages were to be considered.

He noted that making up of assignments to youngsters, to classrooms which take a great deal of time in the summer months could be done in a matter of minutes.

Program assignments, class lists and making up of report cards were among the other functions which the Supt. noted might be handled by the equipment.

In other action at the meeting, permission was granted to the Spy Ponders' football team and Arlington Catholic high school to use Warren A. Peirce field on some Sundays next fall.

The Board also established Wednesday, June 5, as graduation day for the Class of 1963. Meanwhile, the Board also voted to grant another hearing to residents of the Ridge area and Arlinton Village relative

Its fine to have this April in January weather, but we'll probably "wind up" with some January in April weather also. And wasn't Arlington's own E. B. Rideout about the only one to predict a generally mild January?

Gerry Bartholomew has been named treasurer of the local Heart Fund Drive. Dr. Lonnie Rudd will be the guest lecturer at the National Science Foundation In-Service Institute for Science and Mathematics Teachers at Salem State college, Jan. 29. Town Meeting Members seeking re-election who haven't given written notice to the Town Clerk's office by now have run out of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Rosenberg are among those attending previews of the "Old Master Drawings from Chatsworth" at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts. Mary M. McCoy, 81 Hillside ave., recently visited the Washington office of Congressman Torby Macdonald in Washington.

Rev. George Butters and Mrs. Butters, former minister of the Calvary Methodist church in the early forties will be in Arlington and Boston for a week arriving here about Jan. 23. Dr. Butters is Methodist Church Supt. of the South-East District of Rochester, Minn. He will be guest preacher at the Calvary Methodist church, Jan. 27, at 10:45 a.m.

Dr. Robert Carey has been designated an Associate of the American College of Physicians by the Board of Regents of that College. Mrs. Robert Russell is a member of the Conn. College Club of Boston which will hold a Regional Meeting at the home of Mrs. Kenneth C. Willard, Belmont, Jan. 29.

Attorney Joseph Healey, Winchester rd., has announced plans for the formal opening of the new home for the Boston Bar Association early in March. Mr. Healey has been instrumental in relocating the group in its new headquarters at 14 Beacon st., Boston.

Paul F. Burke, 56 Falmouth rd., is a member of the Committee planning the traditional Winter House Party weekend at Bowdoin college, Feb. 15-17. Nedra Sarnow and Lucinda Leonard have been initiated into the Chi Phi Epsilon Sorority of Northeastern U.

An Open House for mothers of all girls in Y-Teen Clubs in Cambridge, Arlington and Burlington will be held at the Cambridge YWCA, Jan. 30.

HOME ECONOMICS EXHIBIT—Recruitment posters are viewed by (l. to r.) B. Lucile Bridges of Allston, N. F. Dairy and Food Council Executive Director, Anna Kloss of Medford, and Nan Fitzpatrick of Arlington, 1962 "Betty Crocker All American Homemaker of Tomorrow". Founder of home economics, Mrs. Ellen H. Richards, was commemorated during recent meeting at Simmons College.

The public is cordially invited to see "Prints—The Why and Wherefore", the first of a series of exhibitions sponsored by the Robbins Print Collection of Arlington. It may be seen from Jan. 28th through Feb. 20th every day except Sundays in the gallery of the Robbins Library at 700 Massachusetts Avenue in Arlington. The hours will be—weekdays: 2-6 p.m. and 7-9 p.m.; Saturdays: 9-12 a.m. and 2-6 p.m.

Assembled by the Kennedy Galleries, Inc. of New York, where the exhibit has recently been shown with great success, it numbers fifty-eight works by outstanding artists illustrating different kinds of print making and accompanied by explanatory notes. Degas, Durer, Homer, Kollwitz, Picasso, Rouault, and Van Dyck are among the artists whose prints are represented in the collection. Methods illustrated include etching, engraving, woodcut and lithograph.

It is planned that this exhibit of prints will be followed by others according to Miss Ellen P. Wiese, Curator of Robbins Print Collection. "There is currently a new enthusiasm for prints as an art form," she said, "and Arlington citizens can be proud that its own fine Robbins Print Collection enables it to be a center for this growing interest."

Mrs. Jeremy A. Coulter is in charge of the committee for hostesses at the exhibition. During the first week the following will be on hand at various times to welcome visitors: Miss Norine T. Casey, Dr. Lakshmi Das, Mrs. Albert Gustaff, Mrs. Wathen Henderson, Mrs. Claudia A. Peterson, Miss Ruth Sampson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Uek, Miss Ellen P. Wiese, and Miss Katharine Yerrinton.

An Exhibition

Inaugurating a new series of print shows to be sponsored by the Robbins Print Collection and held in the newly renovated Gallery of the Robbins Library, will be an exhibition opening by February and entitled "Prints—The Why and Wherefore." It will present fifty-eight works by outstanding artists, illustrating different methods of print making and accompanied by explanatory notes. The collection, which was assembled by the Kennedy Galleries, Inc. of New York, was recently shown there with great success and high critical acclaim.

"It is particularly fitting," said Miss Ellen P. Wiese, Curator of the Robbins Print Collection, "that the series of print shows should open with this exhibit featuring the great variety and scope of prints as an art medium, since our own Robbins Print Collection, numbering over one hundred and fifty thousand items, also includes examples of a wide variety of techniques, and is one in which Arlington citizens can take a genuine pride."

The show, indicative of an upsurge of interest in prints as an art form, will be open to the public. It will include prints by Rembrandt, Van Dyck, Whistler, Kollwitz, Degas, Rouault, Goya, Durer, Homer, Picasso, and numerous other well-known artists. Methods illustrated will include etching, engraving, woodcut, and lithograph. Also in the exhibit will be an original etching plate and in some instances several plates, demonstrating their comparative merits.

The exact date of opening is to be announced shortly to the press. Inquiries will be welcomed at the Robbins Library.
